THURSDAY, FEB. 24, 1916.

In spite of repeated challenges, no Democrat comes forward with a list of the important issues upon which President Wilson has not changed his mind.

When Mr. Wilson repudiates the one-term plank of the Baltimore platform and becomes a real candidate for re-nomination is he responding to a duty which he "assumes" or "recognizes?"

An administration which lets Garrison go and retains Daniels may well be looked upon with some suspicion when the question of a sincere regard for national defense is under consideration.

Those who follow the races are already familiar with the phrase "a Garrison finish." It was a sort of heart-disease affair, as we recall. The Garrison finish in this administration fits the phrase perfectly.

The British government is again in the market for khaki cloth, 10,000,000 yards having been reported as necessary to meet the demand. This has caused a rise in the price of wool tops, crossbred qualities, of 2 cents a pound, according to a dispatch from Bradford, England.

Senator Stone of Missouri is displaying a touchiness entirely uncalled for. He objected the other day to the reading in the Senate of a newspaper clipping relating the details of the murder of an American citizen in Armenia by the Turks. It was, Senator Stone claimed, a reflection on the administration. But even so, is not "pitiless publicity" still a Wilsonian watchword?

Imports entered the thirteen principal customs districts of the United States for the week ended January 29, 1916, to the value of $41,461,927 on which customs revenues were collected in the sum of $3,522,336, or an average rate of duty of 8.5 per cent. If this low average duty rate keeps up, as it has for the past six weeks, Secretary McAdoo will have to blow his little ready revenue raisers to another dinner and devise new schemes for taxation over the walnuts and wine.

Did you cheesemongers and dairymen read this line in the "Weekly News Letter" of the Department of Agriculture for February 9? "At present practically no cheese is exported, and in fact about 60,000,000 pounds are imported." The Underwood "tariff-for-less-than-revenue" law cut the Republican protective rate on cheese, of 6 cents a pound, to 20 per cent—adopting an ad valorem rate. This twenty per cent on the import value of cheese represents about 3 cents a pound, or a cut in the former protective rate of 50 per cent. The line above quoted carries its own conviction.

Mrs. Sara Bard Field of California doubtless spoke by the book when she told a committee of the Senate that the crowds that turned out in the West came to see Mrs. Wilson, and not to hear the President.

The matter of a platform is said to be worrying Democratic leaders. Why should it? Wilson will be the nominee of the St. Louis convention, and a brief and fitting platform would be: "I have changed my mind."

The First Delegates.

The first delegates chosen to the Republican national convention are those from Florida, where the state convention was held on the ninth of February. Eight uninstructed delegates were selected and the convention adopted this resolution:

"We look with confidence to the Republican national convention to nominate a presidential candidate that will inspire and unify all patriotic citizens who believe in protection, prosperity and preparedness and who will secure for all Americans at home and abroad protection for life and property."

The delegation from Florida is said to be made up of representative responsible Republicans who may be depended upon to find, in the field of candidates, exactly the kind of man for a leader whom their resolution describes. In fact, that is the kind of man whom all Republicans everywhere wish to put at the head of the ticket this year. No other kind of a man can possibly win a nomination in a convention such as we shall have this year. It will be a convention free from acrimony and scandal. It will be animated by sincere and patriotic purposes, shared alike by the first delegates to be chosen and by the last as well.

Sciatica's Piercing Pain.

To kill the nerve pains of Sciatica you can always depend on Sloan's Liniment. It penetrates to the seat of pain and brings ease as soon as it is applied. A great comfort, too, with Sloan's is that no rubbing is required. Sloan's Liniment is invaluable for stopping muscular or nerve pain of any kind. Try it at once if you suffer with Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sore Throat, Pain in Chest, Sprains, Bruises, etc. It is excellent for Neuralgia and Headache. 25c at all druggists.
